1. Introduction and definitions

1.1. These Terms govern the Black Friday 25% Deposit Bonus (the "Promotion") offered by Plexy Trade Ltd ("Plexytrade", the "Company", "we", "us").

1.2. These Terms form part of the Account Opening Agreement (the "AOA") and the Company's other client terms. Where these Terms and the AOA conflict on any matter concerning the Promotion, these Terms prevail.

1.3. By requesting the Bonus, the Client confirms that they have read, understood and accepted these Terms.

1.4. In these Terms:

a. "Bonus" means the promotional trading credit granted under these Terms.

b. "Client" means an individual or company holding a fully verified Plexytrade account.

c. "Own Funds" means the Client's money in the Trading Account, including deposits and realised profits, excluding the Bonus.

d. "Promotion Period" means from [start date and time] to [end date and time] ([time zone]).

e. "Qualifying Amount" means the total of the Client's Qualifying Deposits, calculated under section 3.

f. "Qualifying Deposit" means a deposit that meets the conditions in section 3.

g. "Trading Account" means the single MT4, MT5 or TradeLocker trading account the Client nominates to receive the Bonus.

h. "Wallet" means the Client's Plexytrade wallet, which receives deposits before they are transferred to a trading account.

2. Eligibility

2.1. The Promotion is open to new and existing Clients.

2.2. Eligible accounts are individual and corporate Micro, Silver, Gold RAW and Platinum accounts on MT4, MT5 and TradeLocker.

2.3. Copy trading Provider and Follower accounts, and PAMM accounts, are not eligible.

2.4. Each individual may receive one Bonus across all brands operated by the Company or its affiliates, however many accounts they hold. The Bonus may be credited in parts under clause 3.6, always to the same Trading Account and within the limit in clause 3.5.

2.5. Each corporate account may receive its own Bonus, on the same conditions as individual accounts.

2.6. Except for corporate accounts under clause 2.5, the Company may treat accounts that share personal details, payment methods, addresses, devices or IP addresses as belonging to one individual under clause 2.4.

2.7. The Promotion is not available where it would breach applicable law, or to residents of countries where the Company restricts its services or promotions.

2.8. The Company may decline any request at its discretion, including requests from Clients who have previously breached the terms of any promotion.

3. Qualifying deposits

3.1. Only fresh funds count. A Qualifying Deposit is a new deposit of at least USD 500 (or equivalent) credited to the Wallet during the Promotion Period. Smaller deposits do not qualify and cannot be combined to reach this amount. A deposit sent during the Promotion Period but credited after it ends may be accepted, at the Company's discretion, after review.

3.2. The following are not Qualifying Deposits:

- a. transfers between the Wallet and any trading account, or between trading accounts;
- b. funds already held in the Wallet or any trading account before the Promotion Period;
- c. re-deposits of funds previously withdrawn;
- d. trading profits;
- e. bonuses, rebates, compensation or any other credit from the Company.

3.3. The Company calculates the Qualifying Amount from its own records of the Client's deposits and withdrawals when it reviews each request. For example, if a Client withdraws USD 1,000 on Thursday and deposits USD 1,500 on Friday, USD 1,000 is treated as a re-deposit under clause 3.2, so the Qualifying Amount is USD 500 and the Bonus is USD 125.

3.4. Withdrawals made from any of the Client's accounts from the time the Client requests the Bonus until the Bonus is removed are deducted from the Qualifying Amount. Withdrawals made after the Bonus is credited reduce the Bonus to 25% of the new Qualifying Amount. For example, if a Client with a Qualifying Amount of USD 500 withdraws USD 200 from another account while the Bonus is active, the Bonus falls from USD 125 to USD 75.

3.5. The maximum Qualifying Amount is USD 50,000 (or equivalent), so the maximum Bonus is USD 12,500 (or equivalent). Deposits above this limit are welcome but do not increase the Bonus.

3.6. A Client may make more than one Qualifying Deposit during the Promotion Period and request the Bonus on each, separately or in one request, within the limit in clause 3.5. Every part of the Bonus is credited to the same Trading Account.

4. Requesting the Bonus

4.1. The Bonus is not credited automatically. To receive it, the Client must:

- a. make a Qualifying Deposit into the Wallet;

b. transfer the Qualifying Amount from the Wallet into the Trading Account that will receive the Bonus;

c. email promotions@plexytrade.com from the email address registered to their Plexytrade account, stating their full name, the Trading Account number, and the date and amount of each Qualifying Deposit, requesting the Bonus and confirming that they accept these Terms.

4.2. The Bonus is calculated only on the part of the Qualifying Amount transferred into the Trading Account.

4.3. There is no deadline for requests, as long as the Qualifying Deposit was made during the Promotion Period.

4.4. The Company reviews each request and, if it is approved, credits the Bonus as soon as possible, and within 1 business day (Monday to Friday). The Company may ask for further information before deciding.

5. How the Bonus works

5.1. The Bonus equals 25% of the Qualifying Amount. It is credited to the Trading Account as trading credit, which adds to equity and free margin but is not added to the balance.

5.2. The Bonus can be used as additional margin. It supports the account during drawdown and extends the point at which stop-out occurs, giving open positions more room to recover.

5.3. Losses are applied to the Client's Own Funds first. The Bonus absorbs losses only after the Client's Own Funds are fully used.

5.4. The Bonus cannot be withdrawn, converted to cash, transferred to another account, or used to pay fees or charges.

5.5. Profits from trading belong to the Client and may be withdrawn in line with section 6 and the rest of these Terms.

5.6. The stop-out levels and mechanics of each platform apply as set out in the AOA and the account specifications. On TradeLocker, a stop-out may close part of the open volume rather than all open positions.

6. Transfers and withdrawals

6.1. Once the Bonus is credited, internal transfers out of the Trading Account are disabled. This is to prevent potential abuse, such as moving Own Funds out of the account and continuing to trade on the Bonus alone.

6.2. Deposits and transfers into the Trading Account remain available while the Bonus is active.

6.3. To withdraw, the Client emails promotions@plexytrade.com to request removal of the Bonus. Once the Bonus is removed, internal transfers out are re-enabled, and the Client can transfer funds to the Wallet and withdraw as usual.

6.4. Removing the Bonus reduces equity and free margin. If open positions would not have enough margin without the Bonus, the Company may ask the Client to close positions first, or may remove the Bonus once they are closed. The Company is not liable for margin calls or stop-outs that follow a removal the Client requested.

6.5. A Bonus removed at the Client's request cannot be reinstated.

7. Duration

7.1. The Bonus is intended to remain on the Trading Account for 90 days from the date it is credited.

7.2. After 90 days, the Company may remove the Bonus at its discretion, after notifying the Client. The Company will not remove an expired Bonus while the Client has open positions.

8. No stacking

8.1. Unless the Company agrees otherwise in writing, the Bonus cannot be combined with any other bonus or promotion, including PlexyPower, and a Trading Account with another active bonus or promotion is not eligible.

Operating under PlexyTrade

8.2. A Client holding another active bonus or promotion may choose which to keep. The Company may require the other to be removed before this Bonus is credited.

9. Leverage and account type

9.1. The Company may reduce the leverage of a Trading Account holding the Bonus at any time, at its discretion. Reasons include risk management, position sizes, and trading that breaches these Terms. Where reasonably practicable, the Company will notify the Client before reducing leverage on an account with open positions.

9.2. Micro accounts (leverage up to 1:2000) are eligible. The Company may move a Micro Trading Account holding the Bonus to a Silver or Gold RAW account type (leverage up to 1:500), including where its balance exceeds the levels intended for Micro accounts.

9.3. After such a change, the Bonus stays on the account, and the trading conditions of the new account type apply, including its spreads, commissions and leverage.

9.4. The Company is not liable for margin calls or stop-outs that result from a leverage reduction or account type change under this section.

10. Single user

10.1. The Trading Account must be operated solely by the Client. No third party, including account managers, signal providers or other traders, may trade on or access it.

10.2. Clients are expected to access the Trading Account from their own devices, normally one computer and one mobile phone.

10.3. Access from devices or IP addresses shared with other clients' accounts, or a pattern of access inconsistent with a single user, may be treated as a breach of this section.

11. Hedging, prohibited trading and abuse

11.1. Hedging within the same Trading Account is permitted.

11.2. Hedging across accounts is prohibited. This covers hedging between the Client's own accounts, with other clients' accounts at the Company or its affiliated brands, and with an account at another broker or trading venue.

11.3. Where the Company determines that the Client is hedging with another broker, it may void the profits made and remove the Bonus. The Company may base this determination on trading patterns, account activity or any other information available to it.

11.4. The following are also prohibited:

- a. trading in concert with other clients, including mirrored or opposing positions across accounts held by different people;
- b. using trade copiers, Expert Advisors or other tools to replicate trades across accounts;
- c. latency arbitrage, or exploiting delayed, erroneous or off-market prices or platform errors;
- d. gap trading, as defined in the AOA;
- e. swap arbitrage, including on swap-free (Islamic) accounts;
- f. any strategy designed to secure the value of the Bonus without genuine trading risk;
- g. providing false or misleading information, including in a request for the Bonus;
- h. opening or using more than one individual account, or using another person's identity or details, to obtain more than one Bonus.

11.5. The Company decides, at its sole discretion and acting in good faith, whether any trading or conduct is abusive or breaches these Terms. Where it determines that a Client has breached these Terms, it may do any of the following:

- a. reduce or remove the Bonus;
- b. void profits made in connection with the breach;

c. close open positions;

d. reduce leverage, restrict the account, or close any accounts involved;

e. exclude the Client from future promotions;

f. take any other action permitted under the AOA.

11.6. The Client may ask for a review of any such decision by writing to compliance@plexytrade.com.

12. General terms

12.1. The Company may amend, suspend or end the Promotion at any time by publishing a notice on its website. Changes that adversely affect a Bonus already credited take effect 7 days after notice, unless needed to address a breach of these Terms.

12.2. Where a Client is affected by an issue caused by the Company's systems, such as a platform outage, the Company reviews the case and decides on any compensation, including whether to reinstate a Bonus that was lost. No compensation applies to losses connected with a breach of these Terms.

12.3. Disputes about the Promotion follow the complaints procedure in the AOA.

12.4. The Company's decision on any matter relating to the Promotion is final, subject to the review in clause 11.6, the complaints procedure in the AOA and applicable law.

12.5. If these Terms are translated, the English version prevails.

12.6. Contacts: Bonus requests and removals go to promotions@plexytrade.com. Questions and complaints go to compliance@plexytrade.com.

12.7. Risk warning: CFDs are complex instruments, and leverage means you can lose money rapidly. The Bonus does not reduce this risk or protect you against losses. Only trade with money you can afford to lose.
